RALEIGH, December 9, 1909.

His Excellency, W. W. KITCHIN,
Governor of North Carolina,
Raleigh, N. C.

SIR:—In compliance with Section 7, Article I, Revenue and Machinery Act, General Assembly of North Carolina, Session of 1909, the Board of State Tax Commissioners respectfully submit herewith their annual report for the year 1909, which sets forth the workings of said Commission for the preceding year and contains the findings and recommendations of said Commission in relation to matters of taxation.

It appears from the act creating the Board of State Tax Commissioners and granting their powers and prescribing their duties that the representatives of the people fully appreciated the difficulties incident to equal and just taxation. The act emphasizes equality in taxation as the desire to be attained, and to that end directs as the first duty of the Board that all the properties of the State liable to assessment for taxation shall be placed upon the assessment rolls and assessed at their true value in money.

Equality in taxation, that is, apportioning equitably the burden imposed by taxation according to the ability of the subject or properties to bear it, is most desirable. To approach equality the tax rolls must show all of the taxable properties and their value as fixed by a common test. For a standard or measure of value there is no substitute for "the market" or "true value in money."

A comparison of the statistical tables transmitted annually with our reports will show that great progress in this respect has been made, although there is universal reluctance to taxation, as is manifest in its every process, whether in placing the property upon the assessment roll or in the finding of its value or in the payment of the taxes imposed thereon. In all this the Board finds, in exercising its general supervision over local-tax authorities, tax-listing and assessing officers of the State, that much depends upon them.

The tangible real and personal property, as shown by the tax rolls, is 80 per cent of the State's wealth. This class of property is almost wholly valued and assessed for taxation by the list-takers and assessors of the State. The relative fairness of assessment of these two classes of property, the revenue received from these sources, the justness of the tax imposed upon them, depends upon the soundness of judgment, the sense of fairness and the fidelity to the trust of these officers, and the Board of County Commissioners who appoints them. We have observed with diligence our duty towards these officers, in that we have annually provided them with as full information as to their duties in the application of the Revenue and Machinery Acts as it was practicable to do. To aid them to a practical, efficient organization with harmony of views as to the revenue laws and for the common purpose of equal and uniform taxation, we have visited their counties, when necessary to do so, conferred with and advised them in matters of taxation. The assessment, with the exception of personal property and the improvements to real property, when made, is in force for four years. This report does not cover an assessing year, and we have received no complaints since our last report that property liable to taxation has not been assessed or that the assessments have been fraudulently or improperly made.

The tables contained in this report show the total valuations of all property subject to taxation for the assessment June 1, 1908, to be $576,115,170, an increase over previous year of $744,857. This is a substantial increase, considering that it was not an assessing year, and that the tables show there has been a shrinkage in the values of personal property of $2,151,431.

The personal property valuation is shown to be about 60 per cent of the valuation placed upon real property, and the burden of taxation is borne practically in the following proportions: the individual taxpayer, 72 per cent; public service corporations, 15 per cent; industrial corporations, 10 per cent; banks and building and loans, 3 per cent.

If the tables contained in this report are compared with those covering the assessment year 1901, the Board's first annual report, it may be seen that the total increase in valuation is $234,893,161, or 68 per cent, for the period of eight years. The increase during the same period, as shown by the assessments, to industrial corporations is 133 per cent; public service corporations, 90 per cent; and to banks and building and loans, 154 per cent. These increases upon the several properties as here classified, likewise the total increase, may seem to be excessive and unequal.

We have no way to prove beyond a question the absolute accuracy of the value of the property so returned for taxation. Using the information which is available to the public, the other classes of property as listed by the public service and industrial corporations, we find the net earnings from operation, public service corporations, to be $8,861,226, and, if capitalized on basis of 6 per cent per annum, would represent a capital stock value of $144,353,766, or, as is shown in their valuation for taxation, 61 plus per cent of their value; industrial corporations with paid-in capital stock of $95,005,611 valued at 80 per cent, not including surplus and undivided profits; and banks and building and loans, paid-in capital stock, surplus and profits, $18,795,463, or 86 plus per cent of its value. These tables show conservative rather than excessive assessments.

There is no disposition towards unreasonable or unjust taxation; in the opinion of the Commission, our danger is not in excessive or overvaluations or discrimination in taxation—such irregularities and injustice can always be corrected after an investigation and finding of the facts—but in an unlimited and unrestricted rate. Our system of taxation subjects every class of property to the tax rate imposed for every purpose and thus aggregating often a rate in special-tax districts which, when applied to certain subjects of taxation listed at their true value, makes an excessive and unjust taxation.

It is observed, with regret, that the tax rate is not diminishing with the increase of assessments, and we still believe, as we have said before, that the unrestricted rate of taxation is the greatest hindrance to uniformity in valuation and equalization in taxation, hence our recommendations (Report of 1902 and since), in which we have striven to discourage the practice of special statutes for the purpose of exceeding the constitutional rate, 66⅔ cents on the one hundred dollars value.

The average rate borne by all the property of the State, not including municipal taxation, is now 1.10 per cent; and, when the municipal tax rate is added, using many of our principal towns as examples, the rate rises to 2.20 to 2.41 per cent of the assessed value of property taxed.

The statistical tables required by the Tax Commission Act accompany this letter.
